Continuation of 11, does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: The anchoring pegs of Sertich as they move into the vertebrae would inhibit the movement of the vertebrae. As the support surfaces of elements 72 and 74 expand out they will act to support the vertebrae as they are part of the system comprising osteoconductive mesh. The language is also being viewed as functional language and has not been given patentable weight. The Larson et al. reference was utilized to teach a projection on the implant, and not the use of any kind tools or instruments.
